Dear Potential Sponsor,

I'm reaching out on behalf of Shanti Revolutions "Music For Peace", a day dedicated to spreading peace through music while supporting our local community. As we gear up for our eighth "Music For Peace", we're seeking sponsors who share our commitment to fostering harmony and unity.

Our festival features talented musicians singing songs of peace and love. We're not only about spreading positivity through music but also about giving back to our community. We prioritize collaborations with local businesses and artists, ensuring our event benefits our neighbors economically and culturally.

Your sponsorship would not only help cover event expenses but also support community initiatives like outreach programs and artist development. In return, we offer prominent brand visibility, recognition in promotional materials, shout outs during the event and more.

Join us in promoting peace through music while supporting our community. Let's make a meaningful impact together.

Warm regards,

Jodie Emma
